Angelina Asset Artifact Index

This folder now separates the Angelina image system into reusable documents. Use them in this order.

1. Reference Board

File: `ANGELINA_REFERENCE_IMAGE_LINKS.md`

Use this when choosing visual references for image generation. It contains official Angelina page links, direct image links where available, what each reference teaches, and how to use references safely.

2. Visual Style Guide

File: `ANGELINA_VISUAL_STYLE_GUIDE.md`

Use this to keep all generated images consistent with the current Angelina UI: white canvas, warm brown type, cafe/gold accents, vieux rose softness, rounded image containers, and elegant patisserie subject matter.

3. Replacement Map

File: `ANGELINA_ASSET_REPLACEMENT_MAP.md`

Use this to know every current Beano image/video slot in the website and what Angelina asset should replace it. This is the implementation checklist for later.

4. Prompt Library

File: `ANGELINA_PROMPT_LIBRARY.md`

Use this to generate the actual replacement images and videos. It includes final prompts, negative prompts, aspect ratios, filenames, and alt text.

5. Production Runbook

File: `ANGELINA_IMAGE_PRODUCTION_RUNBOOK.md`

Use this when creating, reviewing, exporting, naming, and later integrating the final assets into `public/assets/angelina/`.

Existing Summary Artifact

File: `ANGELINA_ASSET_PROMPTS.md`

This is the broad strategic overview. The new documents split that thinking into practical operating files.

V2 Old-Logic Correction

File: `ANGELINA_V2_BEANO_ASSET_LOGIC_AUDIT.md`

Use this to understand why the first generated hero and brew images did not fit the existing UI. It audits the old Beano image roles and translates them into Angelina requirements.

File: `ANGELINA_V2_OLD_LOGIC_PROMPTS.md`

Use this for the next generation pass. It asks for Angelina subject matter with the old asset logic: abstract full-bleed hero texture and isolated brew product cutouts.

Source-Code Boundary

These artifacts are for planning and generation only. They do not change the website UI. When implementation happens later, update image/video `src`, `poster`, `alt`, and product asset data only unless a separate request asks for layout changes.

Angelina Reference Image Links

Use these links as mood and composition references for generating original replacement images. Do not directly copy protected imagery into the site unless usage rights are confirmed. For generated assets, avoid visible logos, exact packaging reproduction, and readable brand text unless the user owns or has licensed those brand assets.

Usage Rules

- Do not ask the generator to recreate an exact Angelina logo or exact product label.
- Prefer "Angelina Paris inspired" over "exact Angelina packaging".
- Use "no visible logos, no readable text, no fake brand marks" in prompts.
- If an actual licensed Angelina asset is later approved, keep it as photography and do not regenerate it.
- For generated objects that resemble branded packaging, make the label blank or abstract.

Angelina Visual Style Guide For Generated Assets

This guide translates the Angelina theme into image-generation rules. It is designed to preserve the current website UI while replacing the coffee imagery with patisserie and salon imagery.

Visual Personality

The website should feel like a bright Paris tea room, not a coffee roaster.

Core words:

- Airy
- Warm
- Refined
- Creamy
- Giftable
- Heritage
- Patisserie-led
- Quietly luxurious

Color Direction

Match the site theme:

Theme role	UI color	Image equivalent
Primary background	`#ffffff`	Porcelain, white marble, ivory wall, white plates
Primary text	`#3f100a`	Chocolate, chestnut cream, espresso brown
Primary accent	`#aa631a`	Cafe brown, caramel, cocoa, baked pastry
Secondary accent	`#c69951`	Muted brass, gilded mirror, gold foil, warm light
Soft surface	`#fff5f2`	Blush packaging, soft cream background
Section accent	`#d9a594`	Old peach paper, rose-beige packaging
Soft highlight	`#ffcebf`	Vieux rose ribbon, macaron, napkin, gift box

Avoid:

- Black-dominant images.
- Cold gray marble with blue tint.
- Neon colors.
- Saturated red or orange.
- Rustic tan/brown dominance.
- Dark coffee shop shadows.

Lighting

Preferred:

- Soft morning window light.
- Warm salon practical lighting.
- High-key studio light for product cards.
- Creamy highlights on porcelain and marble.

Avoid:

- Harsh noon sun.
- Low-key moody restaurant lighting.
- Heavy vignette.
- Dramatic black shadows.

Materials

Use repeatedly:

- White marble
- Porcelain cups and plates
- Silver spoons and forks
- Muted brass or gilded mirror detail
- Blush and ivory packaging
- Satin ribbon
- Warm leather seating
- Cream linen napkins

Do not use:

- Kraft paper
- Burlap
- Chalkboards
- Rustic wood boards
- Industrial metal tables
- Plastic cups

Subject Matter Hierarchy

Primary subjects:

1. Mont-Blanc 2. Hot chocolate with whipped cream 3. Macarons 4. Tea tins and gift boxes 5. Chocolate crepes / pralines / caramels 6. Belle Epoque tea-room interiors 7. Patisserie craft hands

Secondary props:

- Silver spoon
- Fork
- Rose petals
- Ivory napkin
- Blush ribbon
- Porcelain saucer
- Menu-like card with no readable text
- Gift bag with no visible logo

Composition Rules

Hero:

- Wide crop.
- Strong subject on right or lower right.
- Calm negative space on left/center-left for text.
- Background can be softly blurred salon interior.

Product cards:

- Square.
- Centered object.
- Consistent camera height.
- Consistent shadow softness.
- Similar background temperature.
- No busy surroundings.

Editorial feature images:

- 4:3 or 3:2.
- Subject should be clear in the first second.
- Leave enough quiet border for rounded image containers.

Videos:

- 6-8 seconds.
- One action only.
- Smooth loop.
- No hard camera shake.
- No readable text.

Cropping Safety

The current UI uses large image containers and object-cover behavior. Generate larger than needed and keep the subject away from edges.

Safe zones:

- Hero: leave 35-45% of the left side calm.
- Product cards: keep subject inside central 70%.
- Feature blocks: keep the main subject inside central 80%.
- Videos: avoid critical action in outer 15%.

Texture Rules

Keep textures precise:

- Chestnut cream strands should be fine and clean.
- Hot chocolate should look thick and glossy, not watery.
- Whipped cream should be soft and piped, not foam.
- Macarons should be smooth with visible feet.
- Marble should be white/cream, not gray/blue.

People And Hands

Use hands only when the section is about service or process. No full-face models are needed.

Rules:

- Natural hand anatomy.
- Clean nails.
- White blouse or neutral sleeve.
- No visible tattoos unless intentional.
- No fake staff uniforms or name badges.

Logo And Text Rules

Safest default:

- No visible logos.
- No readable text.
- No fake brand marks.
- Packaging can have ornamental linework, abstract monograms, or blank labels.

If real branded packaging is licensed later, use the licensed photo directly rather than generating a fake version.

Quality Gate

Reject an image if:

- It looks like coffee branding.
- The object is unclear or generic.
- The background is too dark.
- The color palette fights the UI.
- Text is garbled.
- The pastry anatomy looks impossible.
- The image could be mistaken for a rustic bakery, brunch cafe, or coffee roaster.

Angelina Asset Replacement Map

This is the practical checklist for replacing the current Beano/coffee assets with Angelina-style images and videos. It maps current website slots to recommended new assets. It does not ask for UI layout changes.

Icon Assets

The site still references small Beano SVG icons for arrows, basket, feature icons, and stars. These do not need generated photography.

Recommended later treatment:

- Keep generic arrows/stars if they are visually neutral.
- Replace basket/logo only when brand identity is finalized.
- Do not generate raster images for icons.
- Use CSS/lucide/simple SVG if icons need brand cleanup later.

Implementation Boundary For Later

When the assets are generated, change:

- `src/features/landing/data/landing-content.ts`
- `src/lib/engine.ts`
- Any static logo/icon references only if brand assets are approved

Do not change:

- Component layout
- Section order
- Spacing
- Typography
- Animations
- Card structure

Angelina Image Production Runbook

Use this runbook to create, evaluate, export, and later implement the new Angelina-style website assets.

Step 1: Prepare References

For each generated image:

1. Open `ANGELINA_REFERENCE_IMAGE_LINKS.md`. 2. Pick 1-3 references from the matching section group. 3. Use the matching prompt ID from `ANGELINA_PROMPT_LIBRARY.md`. 4. Keep the universal negative prompt active.

Recommended reference combinations:

Output type	References
Hero	REF-HERO-01, REF-MONT-02, REF-INTERIOR-02
Product cards	Matching product reference plus REF-MACARON-01 or REF-MONT-01
Story/location	REF-INTERIOR-01, REF-INTERIOR-02
Process/service	REF-SERVICE-01, REF-MONT-03
Hot chocolate ritual	REF-MONT-02, REF-DESSERT-02

Step 2: Generate In Batches

Batch order:

1. Hero image. 2. Product-card set. 3. Feature/story/process images. 4. Video posters. 5. Videos.

Do product cards in one visual batch so lighting and camera angle stay consistent.

Step 3: Required Sizes

Asset type	Minimum generation size	Export
Hero	2400x1350	WebP

Product cards	1600x1600	WebP
Feature images	1800x1350	WebP
Quote/reviews	1800x1200	WebP
Story/location posters	2400x1350	WebP
Videos	1920x1080, 6-8 seconds	MP4 and WebM

Step 4: File Naming

Save final assets under:

public/assets/angelina/

Use filenames exactly as defined in:

ANGELINA_ASSET_REPLACEMENT_MAP.md
ANGELINA_PROMPT_LIBRARY.md

Do not use spaces in filenames.

Step 5: Review Checklist

Approve an asset only if:

- It reads as Angelina-style patisserie or Paris tea-room immediately.
- It fits the current UI crop.
- It has no fake readable text.
- It has no fake logo.
- It is not a coffee image.
- The palette matches ivory, chocolate, cafe, muted gold, blush, and vieux rose.
- The subject is not cut off awkwardly.
- The image is sharp where the product/food matters.
- Hands, cups, utensils, pastry strands, and packaging geometry look natural.

Reject if:

- It looks like stock brunch photography.
- It has rustic bakery styling.
- It is too dark.
- It has blue/gray lighting.
- It contains AI text artifacts.
- The food looks melted, deformed, or unclear.

Step 6: Export Rules

Stills:

- Prefer WebP.
- Keep quality around 82-90.
- Preserve high enough resolution for `next/image`.

Videos:

- MP4 H.264 for compatibility.
- WebM for modern browsers.
- Muted loop.
- 6-8 seconds.
- Poster image exported from a clean frame.
- Avoid abrupt first/last frame mismatch.

Step 7: Later Implementation Checklist

When the user asks to implement:

1. Add files to `public/assets/angelina/`. 2. Update helper paths in `src/features/landing/data/landing-content.ts` from `/assets/beano/` to `/assets/angelina/`. 3. Update hero, feature, story, process, quote, brew, reviews, and location source fields. 4. Update product image data in `src/lib/engine.ts`. 5. Update alt text using the alt text from `ANGELINA_PROMPT_LIBRARY.md`. 6. Do not change component UI or layout. 7. Run the local build. 8. Check hero, product cards, and video poster crops on mobile and desktop.

Step 8: Content Warning

Because these are inspired by a real brand, generated images should avoid exact trademarks unless licensed. For a clean working prototype, use brand-adjacent visual language:

- "Angelina Paris inspired"
- "Paris tea-room"
- "Belle Epoque salon"
- "patisserie gift box"
- "blank label"
- "abstract gold ornamentation"

Only use exact Angelina logos or official product photos when the project has explicit permission to do so.

Angelina Paris Asset Logic and Prompt System

This document defines the image and video direction for replacing the current Beano-style assets with visuals that feel aligned with Angelina Paris: refined patisserie, Belle Epoque salon culture, marble table service, warm chocolate, tea-room ritual, elegant gifting, and quiet Parisian luxury.

The goal is not to redesign the UI. The goal is to feed the existing sections with images that make the current layout feel intentional, premium, and brand-correct.

For the expanded artifact pack, start with `ANGELINA_ASSET_ARTIFACT_INDEX.md`.

Core Visual Thesis

Angelina should feel like:

- A white salon canvas warmed by chocolate, gold, cafe, and vieux rose accents.
- Real patisserie objects, not generic bakery stock.
- Paris tea-room ritual: marble, porcelain, silverware, whipped cream, tea tins, gift boxes, menus, mirrors, and upholstered seating.
- Elegant product photography with enough negative space for the existing UI.
- Premium but not cold: cream, pastry, chocolate, rose, and warm interior light.

Avoid:

- Rustic bakery flour-dust styling.
- Overly dark coffee-shop visuals.

- Generic croissants on kraft paper.
- Modern minimalist cafe scenes that could belong to any brand.
- Fake logos, fake packaging, or invented brand marks unless you have licensing/permission.
- Busy images behind text.

Palette Logic

Use the Angelina theme palette as the image grading target:

- Porcelain white / warm ivory backgrounds.
- Chocolate brown and espresso accents.
- Soft cafe au lait neutrals.
- Old peach, vieux rose, and blush details.
- Muted gilded brass, never bright yellow gold.
- Occasional deep burgundy or brown leather from salon interiors.

The image grading should stay soft and high-key. Shadows can be warm but should not dominate.

Prompt Formula

Use this structure for every generated image:

[specific subject] in [Angelina-style Paris tea-room or patisserie setting], on [surface/material], with [supporting props], [lighting], [composition], [color palette], [camera/lens], premium editorial patisserie photography, refined Belle Epoque Paris salon atmosphere, no visible logos, no readable text, no fake brand marks, no people unless specified

Universal negative prompt:

generic coffee shop, rustic bakery, kraft paper, messy crumbs, plastic packaging, modern neon cafe, dark moody bar, over-saturated colors, fake logo, misspelled text, readable label, cartoon, illustration, AI artifacts, distorted pastry, extra utensils, warped cup handle, messy table, hands with bad anatomy

Generation Specs

- Hero: generate at 2400x1350 or larger.
- Product cards: generate at 1600x1600 or larger.
- Feature images: generate at 1800x1350 or larger.
- Story/location images: generate at 2400x1350 or larger.
- Videos: 6-8 seconds, muted loop, 1920x1080, plus a poster frame.
- Export stills as WebP when possible, with JPEG fallback if needed.
- Keep important objects away from text overlays.
- Preserve clean edges for cards because current UI uses rounded image containers.
- Use consistent camera height across product cards so the collection grid feels intentional.

Image Selection Rules

Choose an image only if it passes these checks:

- It immediately reads as patisserie or Paris tea room.
- At least one Angelina-coded object is visible: Mont-Blanc, hot chocolate, whipped cream, macarons, tea tin, marble table, salon interior, gift box, or boutique shelf.
- The palette sits in ivory, chocolate, cafe, muted gold, blush, and vieux rose.
- It has enough quiet space for the current component layout.
- It does not look like a generic bakery, coffee roaster, or brunch cafe.
- It contains no fake readable text or distorted brand marks.

Implementation Notes For Later

When these assets are ready, replace only image/video source data in the current components. Do not change layout, spacing, typography, or section structure unless separately requested.

Suggested implementation approach:

1. Add final assets under `public/assets/angelina/`. 2. Update image data arrays and `src` values section by section. 3. Keep existing `alt` text meaningful and specific. 4. Use `next/image` for still images. 5. Use short muted autoplay loops only where the existing component already supports video. 6. Run the app and check desktop/mobile crops before finalizing.

Angelina V2: Beano Asset Logic Audit

This audit explains why the first Angelina image set felt wrong in the current UI and what the second image generation pass should copy from the old Beano assets.

Core Finding

The old Beano images were not only "coffee images." They were designed for specific component roles:

- Hero: full-bleed abstract material texture behind white text.
- Brew section: isolated product cutouts on a clean background.
- Feature/story sections: framed editorial photos.
- Product grid: centered ecommerce product images with hover/lifestyle variants.

The first Angelina set used correct Angelina subject matter, but some assets had the wrong role. The hero became a literal table scene, and the brew images became framed lifestyle photos. That breaks the feeling even if the subject is right.

Hero Logic

Old source:

public/assets/beano/aHR0cHM6_6973e2d273cf24578fae43af_Rectangle 1.webp

What it does:

- Abstract macro texture, not a product scene.
- Full-bleed 16:9 background.
- Warm amber/chocolate palette.
- Bubbles and high-detail texture mostly on the right.
- Center area stays readable behind white hero type.
- No horizon line, no table edge, no room perspective.
- Creates atmosphere first, product second.

Why the new hero failed:

- It is a literal salon/table scene.
- The object cluster competes with the text.
- The marble table creates a strong horizontal plane.
- It feels like a location/product photo, not an immersive hero background.

V2 hero must be:

- Macro hot chocolate surface.
- Abstract whipped cream/chocolate swirl.
- Ganache/gloss/bubbles.
- Possibly chestnut cream texture, but as material, not a plated dessert.
- Dark enough for white text, with controlled calm zones.

Brew Section Logic

Old sources:

public/assets/beano/aHR0cHM6_697885c5f501f5e5f2d816e4_Frame 7 (2).webp public/assets/beano/aHR0cHM6_697885e87b34eadf67c86c89_Frame 8.webp

What they do:

- Isolated glass objects.
- Product cutouts, not lifestyle photos.
- Clean white/transparent-looking background.
- No rounded-card feeling.
- Strong object silhouette.
- Different object heights create rhythm.
- The right-side layout expects these to float as products.

Why the new brew section failed:

- The images are rectangular lifestyle photos.
- Rounded corners make them look like cards.
- They overlap visually with the text column and feel like inserted panels.
- They do not preserve the original "two product objects floating on white" logic.

V2 brew assets must be:

- Isolated product cutouts.
- Transparent or pure white background.
- One shorter cup/bowl object and one taller object.
- No surrounding table scene.
- No salon background.
- No rectangular framed-photo crop.

Product Card Logic

The product grid can use square ecommerce/lifestyle images. The current generated product assets are closer to the right role than the hero and brew section.

For product cards:

- Main image: centered object on clean background.
- Hover image: lifestyle scene, still square.
- Consistent lighting across the set.
- No hard shadows or dark backgrounds.

Feature Section Logic

Feature blocks can stay editorial. These sections accept rectangular lifestyle images because the component frames them as image panels.

Good subjects:

- Boutique shelf.
- Macaron gift box.
- Patisserie counter.
- Tea-room service.

Avoid:

- Product cutouts here.
- Abstract textures here.

Story And Location Logic

These sections can use interior imagery and video posters, but only if they are not too busy behind text overlays.

Good subjects:

- Blurred Belle Epoque salon interior.
- Marble tables and leather chairs.
- Gilded mirrors.
- Soft warm lights.

Avoid:

- Clear readable signage.
- Large faces.
- Strong foreground objects directly under text.

V2 Asset Priority

Generate these first:

1. `hero-hot-chocolate-macro-texture.webp` 2. `brew-hot-chocolate-cup-cutout.webp` 3. `brew-mont-blanc-cutout.webp` 4. `brew-whipped-cream-bowl-cutout.webp` as optional alternate

After those are good, continue product pairs 06-12 and videos.

Angelina V2: Old-Logic Image Prompts

These prompts are for the second image generation pass. They keep Angelina subject matter but copy the old Beano asset logic.

Universal V2 Rules

Use:

- Same composition role as the old asset.
- Same crop behavior as the old component.
- Warm chocolate/cafe/gold palette.
- No fake logos.
- No readable text.
- No exact Angelina trademark unless licensed.

Avoid:

- Literal salon table scene for the hero.
- Rectangular lifestyle photos in the brew section.
- Busy object clusters under white hero text.
- Framed cards where the UI expects cutouts.

HERO-V2-01: Hot Chocolate Macro Texture

Replacement for:

hero-mont-blanc-hot-chocolate.webp

New filename:

hero-hot-chocolate-macro-texture.webp

Prompt:

extreme macro photograph of thick Parisian hot chocolate surface, glossy chocolate foam, tiny bubbles, warm amber cocoa gradients, soft ivory cream swirls dissolving through the chocolate, abstract material texture only, no cup edge, no table, no room, no product objects, no people, no readable text, rich cafe brown and caramel gold palette, premium patisserie atmosphere, high detail bubbles clustered mostly on the right side, smoother calmer texture through the center-left for white overlay text, cinematic full-bleed background, sharp texture with soft organic transitions, luxurious Angelina Paris inspired hot chocolate mood --ar 16:9

Negative prompt:

coffee beans, latte art heart, cup rim, spoon, table, plated dessert, salon room, people, logo, text, label, product packaging, harsh black shadows, blue gray lighting, rustic bakery, cartoon, illustration

Composition notes:

- Put the strongest bubble cluster on the right third.
- Keep center and left-center readable.
- Make it darker and richer than the first generated hero.
- The output should look like a background texture, not a product photo.

HERO-V2-02: Whipped Cream And Chocolate Swirl

Alternative hero if V2-01 feels too close to coffee.

New filename:

hero-chocolate-cream-swirl-texture.webp

Prompt:

extreme close-up abstract surface of thick hot chocolate with ivory whipped cream slowly swirling into it, glossy cocoa brown liquid, caramel highlights, delicate micro bubbles, soft creamy trails like marble veins, no cup edge, no table, no utensils, no dessert objects, no people, full-bleed luxury patisserie texture, warm chocolate cafe and ivory palette, subtle old peach warmth, detailed right side with bubbles and cream, calmer center-left area for white hero text, cinematic macro food photography, Angelina Paris inspired indulgence --ar 16:9

Negative prompt:

For components that already frame images as photos, generate:
